Method 2 - Checking Version (Desktop View)

getbootstrap.com

The screenshot shows the desktop view of the getbootstrap.com website. At the top is a purple navigation bar with a white 'B' icon, 'Home', 'Docs', 'Examples', 'Icons', 'Themes', and 'Blog' links, and social media icons for GitHub, Twitter, Facebook, and Google+. To the right of the bar is a 'Download' button. Below the bar, the main heading reads 'Build fast, responsive sites with Bootstrap'. A large purple hexagonal icon containing a white 'B' is overlaid on a background image of a computer monitor displaying a wireframe interface. To the left of the icon is a paragraph of text about Bootstrap's features. At the bottom left are 'Get started' and 'Download' buttons. The overall design is clean and modern.

Documents
